

AngioDynamics Delta Lasers

Are you looking for a cost-effective route into laser surgery? If so, there is no better place to start than with a reconditioned AngioDynamics Delta laser. These high performance, portable, medical grade lasers are ideal for a wide range of surgical procedures including incision, ablation and coagulation of soft tissue.

The same laser can be easily – and inexpensively – converted into a therapy laser simply by adding a handpiece, allowing your practice to offer High Energy Laser Therapy (HELT) alongside laser surgery. HELT is increasingly being recognised as an effective way of reducing pain and inflammation and promoting tissue healing.

Excel Lasers is offering a limited number of these reconditioned surgical lasers, which have been fully serviced and calibrated and come with a 12-month warranty.

Advantages of the Delta Laser Systems

The same system can be used for both surgery and therapy by adding a handpiece

---

They are easy to use – you can be up and running after a half-day training course

---

They are portable (with an optional carry case) so they can be used in different settings and easily shared among partners

---

Available as a 15W or 30W output depending on your surgical needs

---

All our reconditioned lasers come with a 12-month warranty

Installation and training is provided free of charge.

“Having used an 8 watt diode laser with increasing frequency and success for periocular surgery in horses and cattle I was being presented with larger wounds and tumours for which the existing laser wasn’t powerful enough.

Once I had got to grips with the Delta 30, I began to see the true potential of laser surgery in the treatment of farm animals. It allows you to do things that would otherwise be unsuitable for conventional surgery. It has enormous potential, particularly as the use of antibiotics becomes increasingly restricted.

Patients recover very quickly with minimal observable pain. The post-op surgical sites are usually left unbandaged and are easy to manage.”
